[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

EASTERN DATES TO MAY 26

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE

Horrible Scenes of Conflagration and Blood

VERSAILLES May 25 —The Government troops have occupied Fort Bicetre.

Raoul and Rigault two prominent members of the Commune have been shot

A cloud of smoke covers Paris A fresh conflagration is feared

Archbishop Darboy ten hostages and about fifty priests were murdered at Mazas prison on Tuesday night

Several leaders of the Commune were shot to day, after being tried by a drum head court martial

The Whole City in Danger of being Burned

OUTSIDE PARIS May 25—Afternoon —Since noon a strong southeasterly wind has prevailed, which blows the flames toward Place Bastile, threatening the entire ...

PARIS, May 24 —At 5 o'clock this afternoon the Versaillists carried the Opera House

Dispatch from Brussels

BRUSSELS May 25 —Baron De Anchare declared in the Chamber of Representatives to day that he should not treat as political refugees civilians of the Commune who should escape from Paris into Belgian Territory

Dispatch from Berlin

BERLIN, May 25 —In the German Parliament to day in a debate on the bill incorporating Alsace and Lorraine with the German Empire Bismarck said the task he undertook when he became Minister to establish the Empire was nearly accomplished His health was bad and his personal wish was to retire from active duty He remained only as an advocate for the complete restoration of the Provinces of Alsace and Lorraine to the Fatherland He complained of a lack of confidence shown by the Parliament Unless the amendment it had made to the bill now before it were expunged, he would withdraw the measure and let the Emperor appoint a responsible Minister in his place A vote was taken and the bill was sent back to the Committee for revision

The British Parliament

LONDON May 25 —In the House of Commons, Ryland gave notice of his intention to move a resolution that the treaty must be submitted to Parliament before ratification

Gladstone opposed any immediate expression of sympathy with France for outrages in Paris. The Government had as yet received no official information of acts and accounts in public prints are doubtless exaggerated

WASHINGTON CITY

The Treaty of Washington.

WASHINGTON May 25 —An official copy of the treaty of Washington was delivered to the President this morning and thence transferred to the State Department, where it will be placed in a box prepared for the purpose and sent to England

Proceedings in the Senate

In the Senate Conkling said he was willing to take the whole responsibility of every part of his participation in the investigation, but it had not been suggested by him or by the Senator from Wisconsin (Carpenter) It originated in the executive session He disclaimed any personal feeling in the matter and denied that he had given currency to a report that the suspicion of having furnished the treaty had fallen upon his colleague, Fenton

Chandler was anxious to narrow down the circle of investigation so as to ascertain who is the executive reporter of the Senate Carpenter, from the Committee, made a report submitting all the testimony

They say Chas Truher, manager of the Western Union Telegraph office and J A Kirby, operator in that office, are held in contempt of the Senate for refusing to answer certain questions propounded to them Turnbull moved to lay the report on the table his object being to turn Truher and Kirby over to the courts under the law and discharge White and Randall from custody that their case may take the same direction Motion agreed to 34 to 11

Wilson's motion to discharge White and Randall was proceeded with but subsequently withdrawn. Sherman offered a substitute to the effect that witnesses having testified that no Senator or employee of the Senate had been connected with the publication the Committee be discharged and the witnesses released

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26 —In the keno cases to day Judge Sawyer dismissed one of the parties arrested as a visitor only and continued the other cases one week One of the dealers cases will be decided against the defendant and then carried up on appeal to the County Court

After a stormy session of the Industrial School Board last night Charles D Carter, the well known real estate dealer of this city one of the most public spirited and energetic men in this community went home and soon after was stricken with apoplexy and died in a few minutes He was to all appearances in perfect health yesterday, and took an active part in the session of the Board last night He was a prominent member of the Pioneers, and the funeral will take place under the auspices of the association

The Vandals of the Commune

A contemporary in speaking of the column in Place Vendome at Paris, which has just fallen under the iconoclastic rage of the Republican despotism that is now happily suppressed says

It is one of the loftiest objects in this city seen far out upon the plain in the approach to Paris or marked distinctly in the distant view from the heights of Sceaux or St Germain en Laye and it is associated with many of the most stirring scenes of modern European history as well as with the most brilliant spectacles of the Parisian holiday It was an affecting anecdote of the ill starred Duc de Reichstadt the unhappy boy of the First Napoleon that writing from his exile in Vienna to a friend in Paris he said Salute for me the column in the Place Vendome It was around its base that the victorious eagles of the Crimea and the Italian war victorious for the last time in the campaign of Italy moved in their triumphal entry into their capital Made of the cannon taken by the Little Corporal it was so graceful and imposing an object and crowned so harmoniously the vista down the Rue de la Paix that it was spared in 1815 by the allied armies whose leaders would not even indulge the vengeful Blucher in his desire to destroy the Bridge of Jena But the column must go down before the fury of the communists as a souvenir of monarchical rule

LORD BROUGHAM'S POWER OF WORK —Lord Brougham's power of work and that universality on which he so much prided himself were never more strongly exhibited than in connection with the Review In the very first number three articles on totally different subjects appear from his pen one on Optics another on Acerbi's Travels and a third on The Crisis of the Sugar Colonies

After Lord Brougham came to London he wrote to Jeffrey saying that he had occasion for £1,000, and desired him to let him have it by return of post and articles for the Review to that value should be sent as soon as possible The £1 000 was duly remitted and in the course of six weeks Brougham sent down articles on a vast variety of subjects enough to make up an entire number of the Review—one of them being on mathematics another on a mathematical subject and a third on the music of the Chinese

A man out in Indiana who heard that the safest way to commit suicide was to shut yourself up and burn charcoal was found in a ten acre lot with a charcoal fire near him. Though he had taken the precaution to put up the bars and stop the cracks in the fence with a newspaper, the charcoal did not act fairly by him and he lived

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE

Terrible Fires in Paris

OUTSIDE PARIS, Wednesday night, May 24 —The winds have changed and the fires are slackened The heavens are still illuminated by the flames The debris falls to a great distance Mazas prison is reduced to cinders There are fears still of the safety of Archbishop Darboy Insurgents are attempting flight in the direction of Aubervilliers and Romainville

Cannonading against Belleville and Chaumont continues Rue Royal has been destroyed by mines The insurgents are driven into Pere la Chaise Cemetery where they are surrounded There is a rumor that hostages at the prison have been shot. Liberte says foreign powers have promised extradition of members of the Commune

OUTSIDE PARIS, May 26 —There are terrible fires inside of Paris

The northern gates of the city are repaired and ingress is still refused

The German position at Aubervilliers are now strengthened to prevent the escape of the insurgents

The Germans permit the women and children inhabitants of the burning quarters to leave

Dispatches from Versailles

VERSAILLES May 26 —The insurrection is quenched in Quartier Mouffard and 6 000 prisoners taken

The insurgents are still confined to Belleville and Chaumont, whence petroleum shells are fired all over Paris

The following insurgents have been shot Vallès Amoreux Brunel, Rigault, Dombrowski and Bousquet

The arrest of Pyat de Lescluse and Cluseret is unconfirmed

It is reported that the hostages are safe Nothing is known

The following buildings are destroyed The Tuilleries the Ministry of Finance Prefecture of Police, Court of Accounts Palace of the Legion of Honore, Barracks on Quay D'Orsay Hotel de Ville and Monte de Piete The following are saved Ministry of Marine Interior, Foreign and of Agriculture, Pantheon, Ecole, Beaux Arts Park Monire and churches

McMahon sends the insurgents a last summons that those captured with arms shall be immediately shot

The Louvre collections are saved except the library Many valuable books are destroyed, but the National Library and Grand Livre are saved

The insurgents hold Bercy Place, Bastile, Charonne Belleville and Menilmontant

The Government troops captured Lazar, Lyons and Orleans railway stations

The hostages are transferred

The insurgents have evacuated and exploded Fort Ivry

The Government troops are attacking Bastile and a furious battle was in progress near Pantin at noon

Dispatch from Berlin

BERLIN, May 2 —The Gazette says there was to be a triumphal entry to Berlin the 16th of June and thanksgiving on the 18th

Bismarck agrees to the compromise of the Alsace question The dictatorship is to endure until 1873 Sanction of the Reichstag is required to Alsace loans

Fighting in Paris Continues

LATER—OUTSIDE PARIS May 26—3 P M —The battle before Pantin continues The insurgents are attacked on three sides The conflagration continues

ST DENIS, May 26,—Troops to day surprised and shot a large company of women and men engaged in pouring petroleum into a cellar and throwing in lighted fuses Fires continue to break out in many places

The remnant of the Communists attempted to cut their way toward Pantin closely pursued by the troops, slaughtering them without mercy

EASTERN STATES

Murderer Sentenced

NEW YORK May 26 —Foster murderer of Putnam, was sentenced to death to day by Judge Stuart The execution is to take place on July 14th,

Condition of Vice President Colfax

WASHINGTON May 26 —Colfax passed a quiet night and sat up half an hour this morning He is still very weak

The New Loan

NEW YORK May 26 —It has transpired that Jay Cooke & Co have, on the part of themselves and a combination of home and foreign bankers tendered a bid to Boutwell for all the balance of the $200 000 000 new 5 per cent bonds which will remain unsold on the 1st of June next The terms of the application are such as to hold Boutwell to the policy of selling the remainder of the 5 per cent loan only in combination with the 4½ and 4 per cents It is reported that the Secretary of the Treasury is deliberating over the proposal, and will probably accept it as it makes an immediate market for about $13 000 000 more of the new loan

CALIFORNIA

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO May 26 —It has been warm and cloudy all day sprinkling a little this evening

Work on the new overland railroad from Davisville northwards will be commenced within a month The preliminary and working surveys for the entire line will be commenced immediately

There is a call out for a meeting of the Republican County Committee this evening to rescind the appointment of delegates to the State Convention, but it is conjectured that there will be no quorum

Meetings of the Pioneers and various other bodies and societies of which Charles D Carter was a member, will hold meetings to night to make arrangements for paying appropriate respect to his memory On returning from a meeting of the Board of Industrial School Managers about 12 o'clock last night, he remarked to his wife that they had been having a very exciting meeting and he felt faint from excitement She bathed his head, when knelt down and prayed some ten minutes and then got into bed and died in a few minutes

There was not a very large attendance at the great camp meeting tent this morning and after noon, comparatively few men being present

Stocks generally are a little stronger this afternoon but sales with the exception of Yellow Jacket of which 1 260 shares changed hands were very light

POOR WHITES OF THE SOUTH The train made long and frequent stops but with no apparent purpose for the people who came out of the log cabins at the stations to stare at us had clearly no intention of taking the cars They were the poorest and ugliest white people I have ever seen At one station, while walking up and down the platform eating an orange I observed a man dressed in rusty butternut home spun with canty patches of clay colored whiskers covering his sallow cadaverous cheeks He eyed me from under his dirty slouched hat with a look so remarkable that I stopped and faced him dropping at the same moment the peel of the orange upon the ground near my feet In an instant, with a cat like quickness of motion he sprang forward seized the peel and walked hastily away devouring it with wolfish avidity I at once understood the meaning of the brutish eagerness of his look which had so struck me He had watched me, knowing that I would drop the peel and feared lest some of his companions might secure it —N Y Tribune

A Chicago merchant advertised a "boy wanted," and before he got down town his clerk met him in breathless anxiety and told him that his wife had twin boys Oh it pays to advertise

The Iowa papers insist that Spring Lake in that State, is 17 000 feet high 2 000 feet higher than the highest mountain in the United States

The Presidential Question

The New York Herald is a paper which changes its mind pretty often but its political discourses are generally readable In a recent article it talks about the Presidential succession says that General Grant will be extremely hard to beat and that General Sherman is the candidate for the Democrats We quote part of its article

There are two things in regard to the next Presidency which are morally certain and a third which can hardly be doubted The first is that General Grant will be the Republican candidate the second is that the Republican party will be united in his support and the third is that unless the Democracy take a new departure they will, as in 1860 1864 and 1868 be again defeated The necessities of their position demand a new departure both in their platform and in their candidate for though we look all the way back to General Jackson, we can find no Democratic Presidential platform available for 1872 and in all the list of regular hold over Democratic politicians mentioned as among the probabilities in the coming contest there is not one of them possessed of sufficient wind and bottom for a four mile heat over the national course with General Grant

While he was pushing his St Domingo annexation scheme and with the apparent resolution of pushing it at all hazards there was a hope from the Republican defeat in New Hampshire that the party might become so demoralized and divided as to render the renomination of General Grant somewhat doubtful and the prospect for the Democrats in any event, very encouraging But the President having put out of his way his St Domingo apple of discord the Connecticut election upset the pleasing Democratic delusion that New Hampshire was the beginning of a great political revolution and convinced the party that the election must be set down to the chapter of accidents Indeed the alarming clamor and enthusiasm of the Democrats over New Hampshire, including the unfortunate speech of Jeff Davis in Alabama expressing his hope of the ultimate triumph of the "lost cause" had much to do with their defeat in Connecticut In the one State the Republicans were caught napping over Sumner and St Domingo in the other they were thoroughly roused by what they supposed to be the old war drums and the rappel of the rebellion

But if the dropping of St Domingo by General Grant silenced the mutineers of his party and disarmed even Senator Sumner, what shall we say of the grand idea of the Joint High Commission and of the great treaty from that enlightened body of peace makers now before the Senate, in connection with General Grant and the Presidential succession? In the very announcement from those significant dispatches between Queen Victoria and General Grant of the grand idea of this High Commission for the adjustment of all the questions in controversy between the two countries we believe that this thing would be a great feather in the cap of the administration and so expressed our belief at the time. The grand result in the admirable treaty before the Senate confirms our anticipations and lifts up General Grant to an enviable position among the great practical statesmen of the enlightened age we live in Peace hath her victories no less renowned than War.

And this victory of peace at Washington, we think, will be no less renowned than any of those bloody triumphs of Fort Donelson Shiloh, Vicksburg, Chattanooga, the Wilderness Petersburg and thence up to Appomattox Court House Surely Gen Grant less in this thing than in his policy of economy and retrenchment, has vindicated his administration before the country, and his sagacity and capacity in the great cause of international peace And here we may remark that his experience in the horrors of war, as in the case of the Duke of Wellington, has given the world one of the most devoted champions of peace

The question then as to the Republican candidate for the Presidential succession, and as to his commanding claims and popularity over all other candidates of his party is settled in favor of General Grant As he now stands before the country, the great peace maker how small appear the wrath of Sumner the folly of Fenton, the complaints of Carl Schurz the defection of Gratz Brown the hedging of Trumbull and the doublings and twistings of Greeley concerning the distribution of the spoils! With the record which General Grant has made for his administration and especially from the Joint High Commission he can stand before the people upon his merits as a statesman, and will be hard to beat as a candidate for another term

A Gas Well

[From the Cleveland Herald Apr 28]

About two weeks since the Cleveland Gas Light and Coke Company doubtless induced by the general excitement which the late movement in the matter of sinking artesian gas wells in this vicinity has occasioned, engaged a practical "borist" having headquarters in the oil regions to commence operation at their works situated between Water and River streets in this city, for the purpose of ascertaining what is moving about in the bowels of the earth beneath us The work progressed with the results usually attending such undertakings until a day or two since when the first traces of water were perceptible By Thursday fully fifteen feet of water had accumulated in the pipe which was about eight inches in diameter and about noon on that day the bore being a little over one hundred feet deep the men were suddenly stricken with astonishment the whole volume of water together with dirt, chips tools etc "came up from the bore with such a force as to cause a pretty general scattering among the workmen,

A plank was placed over the orifice to check the flow of gas but the who men volunteered to hold it down was pitched into mid air and fell with such force as to considerably injure him A hundred pound weight was applied but it was of no avail and one weighing five hundred pounds was none too powerful to resist the force of the current of gas A pipe of about an inch bore was connected with the well and a supply conducted to one of the shops of the company and when a light was applied it ignited and shot out a flame at least twelve feet in length

The flame produces an intense heat but for illuminative purposes it is not to be very highly estimated as a flame of the size usual in our street lamps did not produce a light in brilliancy in any way to be compared to that of two candles The gas is said to be very pure but will not it is probable be of any value for purposes of illumination It is thought however, that it will prove a very important acquisition in its utilization for heating purposes Several scientific men examined the gas on Thursday and we understand that another test is to be made of its powers and properties. Some have expressed the opinion that the present flow would soon be exhausted if allowed free course for a day or two it being thought by them to be only a surface supply

A Western lady writes to a noted editor on behalf of her husband "Won't you" she says "see if you can get him a situation as cashier in a bank in New York or something of the sort He is very quick at figures If you can't get him that place, will you please get him one as conductor I know you can do it And if you can't get him a situation there won't you lend him $3 000 so he can start a hat store here? He will pay you, and I will see that he does.

CURRENT NOTES

A man named Morley, in Mecosta county Mich recently attempted suicide because his niece refused to marry him He was arrested instead of being allowed to go and rid society of a fool

Senator Brownlow in a vigorous letter written on the 1st inst, says that he regards President Grant as a stronger man to-day than when he was first inaugurated and that he has never known an Administration whose principles and policy he more heartily indorsed

The Louisville Courier Journal complains that J C Breckinridge, Humphrey Marshall and William Preston three distinguished Kentuckians are out in the cold in their native State being completely shaded by the village blacksmiths and coffee house politicians who are now ruling Kentucky by cursing the niggers

The Walla Walla people are talking railroad in a very lively manner The construction of the Columbia and Walla Walla railroad seems to be assured, provided the Walla Walla people will pledge the interest on bonds for $200 000 They are to hold an election for that purpose and will probably grant the subsidy An annual tax of $10 000 on taxable wealth of three and one half millions, for interest, in addition to their other taxes, is quite a serious burden to assume, but the people think the enhanced value of their property will justify the risk This begins to look like business

A SETTLER —When the Erie canal was first started, the subject of investing in it was discussed in a Quaker business meeting of the men It was opposed by an influential member—no other than Elias Hicks—on the ground of its being a speculation Among other objections he urged that "When God created the world if he had wished canals he would have made them" Upon this a weighty friend (a Quaker term) rose up and said slowly in the intoning voice in which the Quakers always speak in meeting, "And Jacob digged a well" and sat down

SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 27, 1871.

A Protest from Oregon Democracy.

The question whether the "situation" is to be accepted or not is still troubling the "Democracy." A. H. Stephens, ex-Vice President of the rebel States, utterly scouts the idea of accepting it, and is heartily sustained in his views by a large section of the Southern people. The Washington correspondent of the Chicago Times tells us that "while the Democratic members did not believe that the reconstruction acts were constitutional, nor approve of the way the Fifteenth Amendment was ratified, because certain States were denied admission into the Union until forced to ratify it, they at the same time propose to accept both as of full effect." This is certainly strange doctrine, and shows a lack both of pluck and fidelity to their ideas of constitutional government well calculated to excite contempt.

One of the most notable political events of the present year is the Vallandigham platform in Ohio. A considerable time has elapsed since the platform was reported here, yet but one Democratic paper in Oregon has yet mustered courage and independence enough to express any views upon it. That paper is the Albany Democrat, which, in its issue of this week, denounces the platform in unmeasured terms. It says that this Vallandigham movement, in which the results of the war and the validity of the three constitutional amendments are expressly accepted as the platform of the Democratic party, is "a little ahead of any 'progressive Democracy' that has come under its observation." Of Vallandigham himself the Democrat says:

> He jumps on the rear car of the Radical express train that is carrying the country to destruction at lightning speed, and boldly swinging his hat in the air invites the Democracy to follow on as fast as their legs can take them! He wants them to discard every principle that was but yesterday regarded as essentially Democratic and bury the fundamental landmarks of the party under the filth and scum of the Fifteenth Amendment and other infernal inventions of Radicalism, trimming the sails of the good old Democratic ship to the Radical breeze and tuning the Democratic harp to Radical music. He says to Democrats, "Let the dead past bury its dead, and let us all join in with the Radical party, shouting with them in chorus, H[illegible], and death to the White Man's Government.'"

After this recital the "bed rock" organ at Albany proceeds to ask:

> Democrats, will we do this? Will we bury deep in the grave of forgetfulness those dear and sacred principles for which our patriot fathers fought bloody battles and suffered severe privations? Will we deposit in the grave of our country's dead the once glorious rights of the States, the freedom of the Commonwealths and the independence of their people, and upon this sacred pile [illegible] the old Constitution and the hallowed memories that cluster lovingly about its musty pages and with the last blush of departing honor mantling our cheeks and a swelling sob almost bursting our hearts, reverently close the sacred sepulchre and depart without leaving even a [illegible] head board to mark its last rest? Or will we, as in days of yore, stand by the Constitution and the Union, defend the teachings of the fathers, and holding aloft the old Democratic banner on which is inscribed the Jeffersonian landmarks of a strict Constitutional Government, fight for those living principles which demagogues call dead issues?
> There can be but one reply from consistent, honest, true and unchangeable Democrats!
> Let the torn trimmers, political weather cocks and aspiring demagogues prate of "dead issues" and "buried principles"—true principles can never die.

We would be glad to have the views of the Herald on this interesting subject; that is, if it can spare time and space from that momentous inquiry about "Kanaka citizenship," to expound the principles and objects of its party. Here is a grand question that has been agitating the Democratic party for weeks, and the Herald has as yet taken no notice of it. Is that paper with those who would accept the situation as Vallandigham proposes to do? Or will it, like the Albany Democrat, repudiate this movement, condemn its authors, and pronounce still for the "time honored principles?"

France's Agony.

It is the shame of man that in every age, when circumstances arise which bring the worst passions into play, he proves himself still a barbarian and a savage. In what are the mad destroying savages who are now making Paris a heap of ruins, better than those of fifteen centuries ago who set out to plough Rome and harrow Italy?" Yet the French are the only great people who during the last century, a period of unexampled political and social progress the world over, have gained nothing in steadiness and apparently nothing in moral growth. They have retrograded [illegible], and are still reaping the fruits of that great upheaval, the revolution of [illegible]. Napoleon the First was right when he declared that the great revolution had proposed a problem as insoluble as the direction of balloons." By it society in France was cut loose from its moorings, and it is still drifting upon the sea of anarchy, though at intervals fixed fast by a despotism like that of the Empire,—from which despotism, however it again breaks away to go on once more in its career of havoc, spoil and ruin. This is the philosophy of present events in France. Since the revolution it is no more possible to guide society there on even and established principles than it is to direct with certainty the course of balloons. Taking this into account, the present dreadful scenes in Paris need not be surprising. It is not merely the unlettered mob that rushes into these excesses. With the mob are associated men of culture and of talents, but theorists and visionaries, who are indoctrinated with anarchical ideas and who are always ready to sacrifice order and overthrow authority to advance their fanatical ideas. These philosophers of France are even more dangerous and more destructive to the country than the mobs whom they set on. Order, social and political, is a growth. Not only has France not grown in this direction, but she has destroyed the conditions on which such growth is possible. The consequence is that the country is drifting at the mercy of the winds and waves of faction and anarchy. The time is coming when the land once more will be smitten with the trident of despotic authority, and fixed again for a period, like "Delos, floating once." For the only refuge in France from anarchy is in a despotism. There is no middle ground on which rational, enlightened, republican liberty can be established. The great revolution swept all that ground away.

In the South Carolina Tax-payers' Convention, G. A. Trenholm, former Secretary of the Confederate States Treasury, fully accepted universal suffrage, and said that "in view of all the circumstances of the war the clemency of the North toward the South was such as history furnishes few examples of." "What answer," asks the Washington Chronicle, "will the North who shriek about hate, barbarity, and despotism make to this unsullied Democrat?"

Prof. Hoisington is at Salem lecturing on Egypt.

OREGON.

Accounts from all parts of the Wallamet valley represent that prospects for grain never before were equalled. A prodigious harvest is certain.

The capacity of the flouring mills at Jefferson will be largely increased. Three sets of burrs will be added, and other machinery in proportion.

The old Main Street House, in Oregon City, which was built in 1844 by S. W. Moss, is being torn down. It is truly an "old land mark." It cost when erected about $44,000.

The mechanics of Salem have held another meeting to perfect an organization to promote the the manufacture and sale of Oregon made goods, such as plows, wagons and furniture. A step in the right direction.

The Walla Walla Statesman says: Parties in Umatilla county have perfected arrangements by which they expect to be able at an early day to bring into the county several thousand head of the finest blooded sheep to be found on the coast.

A stove dealer at Salem on Wednesday afternoon sold six cooking stoves to as many different families who arrived from Iowa the day before. They saw the Wallamet valley as far up as Marion county, were satisfied and wanted to go no further.

The school children of Salem have long been dreaming of an excursion to Portland by the cars, but the weather has been against them. The little people have been sorely disappointed several times, but still live in hope of the good time coming.

From the Albany Democrat: A few months since a young couple were married at Roseburg, but the mother of the bride was "down on" the husband and persuaded the wife to sue for a divorce in the Circuit Court for Douglas county which she did; but before Court came on, the couple made it up and moved to Portland, leaving the meddlesome "old woman" behind. A few days ago the couple were astounded by receiving a notice from Roseburg that the Court had just divorced them. A license was procured, a 'squire was called in, and they were spliced again in less time than you could say "Jack Robinson." The peculiar condition of the lady rendered an immediate marriage necessary.

THE TERRITORIES.

A first class seminary for young ladies is to be erected and go into operation at Olympia.

The new penitentiary at Boise City has been turned over to U. S. Marshal Pinkham, and is ready for the reception of prisoners.

At Owyhee only one of the original twenty-nine discoverers now resides. He is a sort of "last man," and his name is O. H. Purday.

There is some excitement at Owyhee about taxing bullion. The Assessor insists that under the Territorial law he is required to tax all bullion when it is produced at the mine.

The rival stage lines between Wallula and Walla Walla are carrying passengers for nothing They couldn't afford it, only they do a starving business and carry troops of passengers.

MRS. FAIR—MOTION FOR A NEW TRIAL.—The attorneys of Mrs. Fair have served upon the counsel for the State a copy of their statement and bill of exceptions, on which a motion for a new trial will be based. The document, which appears in detail in the Alta, is quite voluminous. The summary is as follows:

The defendant asks for a new trial on the following grounds: That the jury received evidence out of Court, other than that resulting from a view as provided by law; that the jury separated without the leave of the Court, and that they were guilty of misconduct tending to prevent a fair and due consideration of the case.

That the verdict was decided by means other than a fair expression of opinion on the part of the jurors.

That the Court misdirected the jury in matters of law and its instructions and charges.

That it erred in refusing to give the instructions asked on the part of the defendant.

That the Court erred in its decision upon questions of law which arose upon and during the course of the trial.

That the verdict is contrary to law and evidence.

That the minds of the jury were prejudiced and biased against the defendant by means of the fine of $240 imposed upon her in their presence and hearing.

Newly discovered evidence material to the defendant, and which she could not with reasonable diligence have discovered and produced at the trial.

That some of said jurors had expressed an unqualified opinion as to the guilt of the defendant at the time they were accepted and sworn on trial.

European Navies.

The Administration of Marine in Germany has just published a report exhibiting the strength of the European navies as follows:

England has 630 vessels, carrying 7,902 guns, with an aggregate power of 706,998 horses.

France—362 steamers, 100 sailing ships, with 4,634 guns, and 91,338 horse-power.

Holland—67 steamers, 54 sailing ships and 1,303 guns.

Portugal—5 steamers, 25 sailing ships, and 366 guns.

Spain—74 steamers, 48 sailing ships, 1,000 guns.

Austria—53 steamers and 154 sailing ships.

Turkey—91 steamers and 94 sailing ships.

Russia—20 monitors, 237 steamers, 37 sailing ships, and 2,000 guns.

Sweden and Norway—53 steamers, 240 sailing ships, and 1,323 guns.

Denmark—31 steamers, 57 sailing ships and 455 guns.

The official report of Germany is not given. According to this report, England has about two-thirds of the aggregate of steamers and guns.

THE UNK WEED REMEDY

OR

OREGON RHEUMATIC CURE!

HISTORY.

THIS REMEDY IS COMPOSED OF THE ACTIVE principle of the Unk Weed, Eng.—Thespium Cordatum Organiss, Lat.—Indigenous to Oregon. Grows most abundantly and perfectly in Washington county

It is the most sure and speedy cure for RHEUMATISM, RHEUMATIC GOUT AND RHEUMATIC PAINS, of all kinds that was ever introduced in the Materia Medica.

Read the following certificates of the above fact from several of the most distinguished citizens of Oregon.

Certificate from A. R. Shipley, Esq., special contributor to the Willamette Farmer, and Secretary of the Oregon Horticultural Society

OSWEGO, OR., March 28, 1871

DR A M. LORYEA—Some four weeks ago I was entirely prostrated with Rheumatism, in fact I was almost helpless I sent to you for one 10-ounce bottle of the "Unk Weed Remedy," by the use of which I experienced almost immediate relief; and by the time the bottle was gone the Rheumatism was gone. From my own experience, and from what I have heard others say who have used the Unk Weed, I believe it to be a certain cure for Rheumatism. Yours, respectfully, A. R. SHIPLEY.

Certificate from the Hon. A. J. Dufur, ex-President of the Oregon State Agricultural Society, and author of "Statistics of Oregon."

EAST PORTLAND, April 1, 1871.

DR. A. M. LORYEA & CO.—I was afflicted with a severe attack of Chronic Rheumatism; was confined to my bed most of the time from January to July, when I used the Unk Weed, and it cured me up. A. J. DUFUR.

Certificate from Hon. Gideon Tibbetts, a member of the City Council of East Portland

EAST PORTLAND, April 7, 1871.

DR. A. M. LORYEA & CO.—Gents: This is to inform you that I have used your "Unk Weed Remedy" for Neuralgia and Rheumatic pains, and found relief from the use of only one bottle, and can recommend it to those in need of such a remedy. Yours, GIDEON TIBBETTS.

Certificate from Mr. James Bybee, the celebrated stock grower and "King of the Oregon Turf."

SAUVIE'S ISLAND, January 14 1871

TO DR. A. M. LORYEA & CO.—This is to acknowledge the efficacy of your "Unk Weed Remedy, or Oregon Rheumatic Cure." I was afflicted for months with a very serious attack of Inflammatory Rheumatism, and tried nearly all the so-called Rheumatic remedies without any relief perceivable I then tried your Remedy, and its use resulted in the most happy effects—a perfect cure.

Truly yours, JAMES BYBEE

Certificate from Hon. E. L. Quimby, ex-County Commissioner of Multnomah county, Oregon:

EAST PORTLAND, April 1, 1871.

DR. A. M. LORYEA & CO.—I have used the "Unk Weed Remedy," and am satisfied it is a valuable medicine. It regulates and invigorates the system. This is my experience with the remedy. Truly yours, E. L QUIMBY.

Certificate from Hon. N. H. Lane, Pilot Commissioner of Oregon, and a member of the City Council of East Portland

EAST PORTLAND, April 10, 1871

DR A. M. LORYEA & CO.—I have been afflicted for several years with "weakness in the back" and wandering Rheumatic pains, accompanied by severe constipation By the use of one bottle of your Unk Weed Remedy, or Oregon Rheumatic Cure, I have been entirely relieved, and I cheerfully recommend it as a most valuable and efficient remedy. NAT. H. LANE

Certificate from the well-known merchant, O. W. Weaver, Esq.

THE DALLES, May 23, 1871

DR. A. M. LORYEA & CO.—I have used the "Unk Weed Remedy" and can cheerfully recommend it to persons afflicted with Inflammatory Rheumatism. It cured me of that disease. My hands, wrists, ankles, indeed, all my joints were swollen and very painful. O. W. WEAVER.

Certificate from the celebrated musician, Prof. Otto Vieuxtemps

OREGON MUSICAL INSTITUTE,
PORTLAND, May 22, 1871.

DR. A. M. LORYEA & CO.—I was attacked with severe Inflammatory Rheumatism, suffering great pain, and was so prostrated that I was unable to attend to my business. I used one bottle of your Unk Weed Remedy, or Oregon Rheumatic Cure, and was entirely cured by it alone. OTTO VIEUXTEMPS.

Put up in 10 ounce bottles, at $1 50 per bottle.

CITY.

Church Services.—Rev. Mr. Kim... [illegible] hold religious services at Kalama, to-[illegible]

[illegible] services will be held at St. David's Church, East Portland, Sunday morning, [illegible] o'clock, and in the evening at half past [illegible] o'clock.

[illegible] Remington, the blind preacher, will give a third lecture on Ancient Egypt in the Unitarian Church to-morrow evening, beginning promptly [illegible] o'clock. The lecture will continue the imaginary ride down the Nile, and the great pile [illegible] Lake Moeris, the Labyrinth, and the [illegible], and will close with some account of [illegible] of Egypt. Those who have heard [illegible] speak in high terms of the interest and [illegible] of his whole narration and comment. The public are cordially invited.

We are informed that Rev. Dr. Lindsley, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will deliver a discourse at 11 A. M. to-morrow, on the subject of "The Display of our Material World." On subjects kindred to this the Doctor talks with great [illegible] to his audiences, and he will doubtless have a full church.

The Diamond Drill.—Yesterday morning we [illegible] Mr. John Morris, the contractor to construct the Willamette locks and canal, and he exhibited to us several of the famous diamond drills with which the work of excavating is to be hurried up. They are about the simplest queer things in the world, considering their astonishing [illegible]. They look like sections of steel tube [illegible] inches long and half an inch thick, with an outside diameter of an inch and a half or a little more. At one end of the section, four dirty looking little stones are set in [illegible] the rim and as many more in the circumference. These are the diamonds. The section of tube has a screw thread at the other end, by which it is connected with the drill rod and the engine. When set to work, the drill [illegible] at the rate of about 1,100 revolutions a minute. It is said that the hardest rock [illegible] or even steel, can be drilled with them with facility, and that the wear of the diamonds, after years of use, is almost imperceptible.

An Old Settler Going East.—Rev. Elkanah Walker and wife, who were married on the 5th of March, 1838, and started two days afterward across the plains for Oregon, arrived from their home in Washington county, last evening, to set out by the steamer of to-day for a visit to their home "way down in Maine,"—near Portland. [illegible] they left the State of Maine, 33 years ago, [illegible] a family of children, their firstborn being the first boy born of white parents in [illegible]. Their children are now all grown up; [illegible] far on the closing stages of their [illegible] and now they are about, for the first [illegible] of a century, to leave their western [illegible] revisit the scenes of their boyhood [illegible]. They have several brothers and [illegible] living in Maine; but whom else will [illegible] of all the troops of boys [illegible] with whom they were play-fellows in [illegible]. They expect to be absent three [illegible] at least, and possibly till October. [illegible] of all their friends here, will go with them.

[illegible] Beaver Track.—Every great city [illegible] through a course of litigation about [illegible], just as every child must have the measles. [illegible] has got the litigation measles now and a good deal of excitement, it is reported, has prevailed there during the last two or three days. [illegible] seems to be this: Some years ago Mr. Hensill, late owner of the land on which the town [illegible], purchased a part of said land from a [illegible] Davenport. It is now claimed that [illegible] Davenport had a wife and that she did [illegible] in the deed to Mr. Hensill. Enterprising [illegible] are working up the case with a view of [illegible] the share said to belong to Davenport's wife. Per contra, it is stated that there is [illegible] at the land office of any claim by a [illegible] Davenport; hence it is not believed that [illegible] a wife. If he did she held no part of the [illegible] in her own name and right, and at most [illegible] claim a dower in it. We give the statement as they came to us. No doubt the Company will make all titles good and give warranty [illegible]

[illegible]ation Anniversary Celebration.—[illegible] learn from the Sentinel that on the 3d day of [illegible] a great anniversary celebration will take [illegible] Vancouver, in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of the ordination of the Rt. Rev. A. M. [illegible], D. D., Bishop of Nesqualy, who [illegible] ordained priest on the 3d of June, 1821. [illegible] preparations are being made by the [illegible] and laity of that city for the event. On [illegible] evening, June 2d, the eve of the anniversary, an exhibition will be given by the pupils of [illegible] Sisters of Charity, in honor of the occasion, [illegible] Saturday, the day of the feast, grand [illegible] High Mass will be celebrated at nine [illegible] A. M. His Grace, Archbishop Blanchet, [illegible], and many of the clergy of this and [illegible] of Nesqualy, will be present and assist.

For Tillamook.—The schooner Mila Bond, Capt. Paul Corno, will sail to-day for Tillamook with a full freight of merchandise shipped by the [illegible] consignees: Capt. Quick 3 packages; [illegible] & Co. 35; G. W. Miller 200; R. B. [illegible] 16; T. Morgan 11; J. Shoppart, an emigrant, 20; S. T. Tewilliger 26; J. T. Elliott 140; [illegible] Vaughn 17; D. Baily 1; J. Fuller 4; J. J. [illegible] G. W. Miller 300 qr. sks. flour. [illegible] passengers were also to go on the Bond. Capt. Corno says he is going to run in the Tillamook trade, and make trips often enough and [illegible] enough to accommodate fully, not only the [illegible] of this city but the people of Tillamook [illegible]. He is an accommodating sailor, and the [illegible] cannot do better than to give him their trade.

Is "Sweet Singers" After All.—All our [illegible] anticipations in regard to a coming crop [of] "sweet singers" in Portland, are squelched. The Advocate denies that the congregation stole [illegible] of Mr. Phillips' song books, and pronounces the statement heretofore made by the [illegible] to that effect, "a mistake arising from inaccuracy in counting; there was no such loss [illegible]." For Mr. Phillips, and the moral [illegible] of the congregation, we are glad to [illegible] it.

An Invention for Printers.—Mr. H. H. [illegible] called at our office yesterday with a "Proof [illegible] Rack,"—a simple contrivance which is adaptable to any case, and which must be in universal favor in all printing offices where it is [illegible]. The advantage of the invention is that by its use galleys may be corrected without covering [illegible] boxes in the case. The cost is inconsiderable compared with its convenience—only $2 00.

Bad Condition.—The Street Commissioner, [illegible] city dads, or some other man, ought to see [illegible] having North Front street repaired. The [illegible] is too narrow at the best, and many of [illegible] planks are stove into smithereens, rendering [illegible] anything but pleasant or comfortable [illegible] carriages, or safe for heavy trucks.

Departure of the Whistler.—The bark [illegible], Simpson, Master, was towed down the [illegible] yesterday forenoon, by the Okanagan. She [illegible] on board 500 tons of produce, and is to take [illegible] more and a hundred thousand feet of [illegible] at Westport and other points on the [illegible]

Picnic Arrangements.—There will be a meeting at 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon at the Catholic [illegible] room, of ladies and gentlemen connected with the Catholic Sunday school, to make [illegible] for a picnic to take place some[illegible] in June.

East Portland.—It will require the removal of about 3,000 cubic yards of dirt to improve G street.

Abbott & Co., contractors to build the Fourth street bridge, have filed their bonds and will soon [illegible] work.

Society Meetings.—The Board of Managers of the Catholic Library Association will meet to-morrow evening at 3 o'clock. The Society of St. Vincent de Paul will meet at their Hall, on Stark street, to-morrow afternoon, at 4 o'clock.

Suit Concluded.—The long and tedious trial before Justice Moreland, between White and Sinclair, for the possession of the International Hotel, [illegible] ended yesterday—judgment in favor of [illegible] White.

Picnic Postponed.—The picnic appointed for to-day, has been postponed till next Saturday in hopes of having better weather.

Steamers to Sail.—The steamships Ajax and [illegible] will sail for San Francisco this even-

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

We are indebted to the Advocate for the following:

The M. E. Church, South, will hold a camp-meeting two miles north of McMinnville, commencing on the second day of June.

A camp-meeting will be held on Vancouver circuit, six miles north of Vancouver, commencing on the 15th day of June.

At a meeting called by the Presiding Elder of Salem District, it was resolved to have a Ministers' Association for both traveling and local preachers, May 30th and 31st, at Salem M. E. Church, to commence Tuesday at 2 P. M.

Rev. J. Hoberg informs us that the contract for building a new M. E. Church at McMinnville, was let on Monday last to Mr. Alexander Watt. The building will be 30x55, and the contract calls for its completion by the 15th of September.

The newly appointed pastor, Rev. W. H. Meisse, having arrived, public religious services may be expected at the Hall-st. Church as usual. Preaching at 11 o'clock A. M. and at 7½ o'clock P. M. It is also expected that the Mission Sabbath school, at the north end of the city, can now be organized and firmly established.

The fourth quarterly meeting for Milwaukie charge, will commence at Lee's Chapel this (Saturday) afternoon at 2 o'clock, with a sermon by the Presiding Elder, Rev. C. C. Stratton. Preaching may be expected again at night at the same place by Rev. W. H. Meisse. The public are respectfully invited to attend.

A Congregational Church of eight members, was organized at East Portland, Sunday 14th inst., by appropriate religious services. Rev. Mr. Walker, of Forest Grove, preached a sermon; Rev. Mr. Geary, of Oregon City, gave the right hand of fellowship; Rev. Dr. Atkinson, of Portland, offered the consecrating prayer, and delivered the address to the Church.

The following items are from the Sentinel:

Next Wednesday, Friday and Saturday are Ember days, are, therefore, days of strict fasting and abstinence. The four Ember weeks in the year are times of public prayer and fasting, and are instituted partly for the successful ordination of priests and other ministers of the Church, and partly to thank God for the fruits of the earth and a continuance of them.

During last week our Most Rev. Archbishop sent to Rome the address of sympathy for the Holy Father and a protest against the occupation of Rome by Victor Emmanuel, of the clergy and laity of the Ecclesiastical Province of Oregon. To-day a letter will be sent to His Holiness, Pope Pius IX, containing the congratulations of the Archbishop, Bishops, clergy and laity of this Province, on the occasion of the 25th anniversary of his reign and upon the unprecedented fact of his reaching "the years of St. Peter."

On to-morrow the Church celebrates the great Feast of Pentecost, also called Whit-Sunday. This feast is celebrated in memory and honor of the descent of the Holy Ghost upon the Apostles, in the shape of tongues of fire. Pentecost, in Greek, signifies the fiftieth, it being the fiftieth day after the resurrection of our Lord and Redeemer; and it is called Whit-Sunday from the catechumens being anciently clothed in white, and admitted, on the eve of this feast, to the Sacrament of Baptism. The services will be the same as on other Sundays.

AMUSEMENTS.

Musical Institute Concert.—Owing to the extensive preparations in progress, the concert to be given by the pupils of the Oregon Musical Institute has been postponed till June 17th. The hall is to be fancifully decorated, and to represent a feast. A beautiful silk banner to be contributed by the pupils, is being made—the design and lettering by Capt. C. S. Mills. One of the ceremonies of the occasion will be the crowning of the Queen of Summer. We are informed that the schools of Vancouver and Oregon City will assist in the exercises.

The Circus.—Last evening, the weather being favorable, the circus pavillion was well filled. The performance went off a little smoother, too, everybody and the horses seeming to have got a better hang of the ropes. Kingsley and Ducro do very fine and daring riding acts; Cook is at home in the clowning business; Gregory, on the bars, is first rate, and the vaulters, tumblers, etc., are among the best of their class. The show is worth going to see. A matinee performance will be given at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and their last performance, for the present, at 8 o'clock this evening. The company are going, next week, to the Dalles, thence to Walla Walla, and to return here about the 9th of June. After that they will make a tour of the Willamet valley.

Tyrolean Concert.—The Frank Brothers, Tyrolean singers and warblers, will give an interesting concert at Oro Fino Theater Monday evening, to consist of national airs, comic- and character songs, etc., performances upon the zither and piano. The songs will be sung in German, and to that class of our citizens will be particularly interesting. See the programmes for particulars.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Saddlery.—Mr. John W. Cullen is carrying on the saddlery and harness business at No. 76 Front street, between the ferry landing and Exchange Hotel. We call particular attention to what he says in his advertisement about his manufacture of "Portland team harness."

Lecture To-Night.—It should be remembered that, this evening, Rev. Dr. Lindsley will lecture upon "Hearts and Hands," at Philharmonic Hall, in aid of the "Willamet Society." This is a lately organized literary society, whose aims are for the elevation of the literary standard of the community, and therefore deserving of all possible encouragement. Let there be a full house.

Plantation Bitters is the oldest prepared tonic in the world. It was well known in the West India Islands sixty years ago. It was then prepared and sold by one Pedro Mortell, who inherited it from his father, so that it is safe to date its origin back at least one hundred years. The components of which it is composed are precisely the same, save that the present proprietors have added thereto Calisaya or King's Bark, known the world over as possessing the most beneficial tonic properties of any that a kind Providence has provided us.

The Household Tonic.

The efficacy of Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters as a specific for recruiting the enfeebled body and cheering the desponding mind has passed into a proverb. In the United States, where this marvellous tonic has borne down all opposition and eclipsed all rivalry, the demand for it has annually increased in a heavier and heavier ratio for years, until at last, the regular sales of this preparation exceed those of all other stomachics combined. Eminent members of the medical profession and hospital surgeons without number, have candidly admitted that the pharmacopœia of the faculty contains no prescription that produces such beneficial effects in dyspepsia, general debility and nervous diseases, as Hostetter's Bitters. To use the language of a venerable physician of New York: "The Bitters are the purest stimulant and the safest tonic we have. But the uses of the great vegetable antidote are much more comprehensive than such praise would imply. As a preparatory antidote to epidemic disease, a genial stimulant, a promoter of constitutional vigor, an appetizer, a stomachic, and a remedy for nervous debility, no medicinal preparation has ever attained the reputation of Hostetter's Bitters. It is the household tonic of the American people, and in all human probability will be so for centuries to come. The magnates of science recognize its merits; and it is emphatically the medicine of the masses, is proved by its fast and ever increasing sales.

Catholic Europe on Infallibility.

A late London letter to the Boston Advertiser says:

There are moments when the doings of Catholic Germany raise the expectation that there, at all events, the demands of the Papacy upon the intellect and the life of the faithful will end in a violent breaking away of the laity. Dr. Dollinger's excommunication has caused a violent commotion. The King of Bavaria has not the power, as he is without the vices, of Henry VIII., but if he persist in upholding the Munich professor he may leave a mark in German history. Who knows but that the German war may end in the ruin of Romanism—first in Germany, and afterwards in Italy, Belgium and Catholic Europe. It is said by competent authorities that the impulse which was given by the war to the general life of the nation shows itself, in Catholic Austria particularly, in an awakened longing for religious freedom. The celebrated Syllabus puts compromise out of the question. No modern nation could live by that document. It proclaims war to the knife with every civilized State. Hence if a reigning sovereign adopted it—and he would adopt it if he accepted the decree of the Ecumenical Council—his own relation to the Pope on the one hand, and to his people on the other, would be changed. He must choose between his subjects and the Pope. Every Catholic sovereign in the world will be called upon to make this choice. A majority of the population in Bavaria would support the government in a conflict with Rome, and if the government deserts the excommunicated professor it will range against itself the mass of the educated laity. The Bavarian government has officially disavowed the Papal decree, and it is bound to protect a priest who is branded for refusing his assent to the same manifesto. From this one cause great events may spring.

The meekness of the American bishops has disappointed the Catholic liberals. It was difficult to conceive that men coming from a centre of freedom of thought could endorse a policy which placed a ban upon every idea upon which the government of their country was founded. The Bishops of the United States, at all events, might be relied upon. You know how mistaken the poor liberals were.

But Americans, visiting England, whether as men or bishops, are fond of disappointing us. They usually leave their opinions at home. [illegible] rarely seen an American gentleman, for example, testify even toleration for [illegible] republicanism. Just as our [illegible] in the days of American slavery, [illegible], with some remarkable exceptions, [illegible] the pro-slavery leaders and use the [illegible] that are current in that society, so Americans landing in Europe, began at once [illegible] at everybody but monarchs. No one [illegible] French Republican, or Italian Republican, or a Spanish Republican, as the average American visitor. Conversation with [illegible] class has convinced me that the idea is [illegible] one in the American mind, that the only people in the world who are fit for [illegible] government in which freedom is [illegible]—are the happy and wonderful people who constitute the United States.

The Real Issues.

[From the Cincinnati Gazette.]

Senator Morton presented some questions in his recent speech at Indianapolis which we should like to have the Northern Democracy, or so-called conservatives, answer.

He asks, If the Democratic party shall come into power, what will they be likely to do?

This question is asked in connection with the further fact that a large majority of the party itself will belong to the States which made the attempt to destroy the Union and form the Southern Confederacy.

The tame generalizations and bitter condemnations in the Democratic address do not meet the real issues of the time.

Will Southern Democrats, who, as a majority, must control the party, voluntarily tax themselves to raise money to pay the interest and principal of the national debt that was contracted for their subjugation?

Is it not reasonable to expect that they will demand either a repudiation of the national debt or an assumption of the Confederate debt? They lost their property by the war; their slaves, valued at hundreds of millions, were taken from them and made freemen and voters by the inexorable logic of events; their bonds are now worthless, and for all these they desire compensation.

The Northern Democracy dare not insert into their party platforms a declaration that under no circumstances would they pay the South for the slaves lost in the war.

Give the Democracy a majority in the national government and the South a majority in the Democratic party, and all the power of this party must be brought to place on perfect equality patriotism and treason, Union soldiers and rebels, national and confederate debt.

Large as is our public debt now, it would be more than doubled by the triumph of southern rebels controlling the Democratic organization and having a majority in the government.

Here are real issues which must be met in the approaching campaign. They are not to be set aside or covered up by oft repeated and oft refuted charges of wholesale corruption or extravagance, or the danger of centralization of power in [illegible] legislation for the protection of life and property in all parts of the country.

These direct issues are commended to the attention of conservative Republicans and [illegible] War Democrats, as they loved to [illegible] and the earnest question [illegible] whether they can consistently [illegible] men, South or North, who are [illegible] now as ever to root up and destroy our very national existence.

In solemn earnestness we appeal to the liberty loving hosts who, in 1861, rallied to the defense and preservation of the Union, to cordially and earnestly unite and settle the great issues so absolutely and so unchangeably that treason and rebellion may never more seek lodging in our nation.

Letter from Senator Brownlow—His opinion on Southern Democrats.

In a letter dated May 1st, Senator Brownlow, of Tennessee, says: "The rebel party that we are dealing with are as bitter and insulting as they were in 1861, and are as haughty and overbearing as when in the field with arms in their hands." We quote further:

The truth is, this rebel party hate the old flag, and hate the Government of the United States. They have hopes of destroying it. And now seek to accomplish through legislation that which they failed to accomplish on the field of battle. They are sailing under the colors of Democracy and under false pretenses of upholding the Constitution. The same Democracy furnished a Governor to each of the eleven seceded States just preceding the rebellion, hence their unanimity of voting themselves out of the Union. The present plans and purposes are to elect a President, both branches of Congress, and to repeal all the reconstruction acts and grant pensions to the rebel soldiery. Also, to either have pay for their negroes or restore slavery, and by all means to do away with negro suffrage. Many of them openly avow that their toleration of negro suffrage and emancipation is only an experiment, and if it don't work to their notion, they will put it down. * * * It will be seen that I characterize the opposition to the Republicans as rebels. There are but two parties in the country. The one is the Union Republican party, that has saved the country thus far, and proposes to take care of it from this time forward. The other is the Rebel party, which fought for four years to destroy the Government. The one is an army of patriots, the other an army of traitors. And the great mistake of the party in power was that they did not hang the leaders.

A GREAT DIFFERENCE!—Uncle Sam—a downeast farmer known far and wide by his patriotic title—had a neighbor who was in the habit of working on Sunday, but after a while this Sabbath breaker joined the church. One day our friend met the minister to whose church he belonged.

"Well, Uncle Sam," said he, "do you see any difference in P since he joined the church?"

"O yes," said Uncle Sam, "a great difference. Before when he went out to mend his fences on Sunday, he carried his ax on his shoulder, but now he carries it under his coat."

Servant girls in Wyoming get $7 a week and the privilege of voting.

OF
Railroad Travel,
Connecting at the Junction in California with the Great Overland Railroad to the Eastern cities.
Time through to San Francisco..................5 days.
" " New York..................12 "
☞ Passengers allowed to lay over along the route.
Those who travel by this route avoid the dangers of the sea and that dreaded and terrible feeling of seasickness. The wild picturesque scenery, beautiful valleys and snow-capped mountains, alone, doubly pay the tourist for a trip over this route.
This route passes through the principal agricultural districts of Oregon, the valleys of the Willamette, Umpqua and Rogue River. To the immigrant coming here in search of a home or investment, this route is strongly recommended.
